I. INTRODUCTION

A. Overview

The banking and cash management services requested in this RFP include the University’s General Operating Account.

Proposals are due March 28, 2012 at 3:00 p.m. Eastern Time. No faxed or e-mail proposals will be accepted.

The proposer understands and agrees that the University shall have no financial responsibility for any of the costs or losses incurred as a result of the proposer responding to the RFP.

III. UNIVERSITY ACCOUNT DESCRIPTION AND ACTIVITY

A. Description of Accounts:

Master Account – This account consists of monies pooled from many University funds including tuition, federal grants and other miscellaneous University funds. It is used for payments processed through the accounts payable system, refunds to students, and ACH and EFT transfers. Below are the average monthly numbers for this account.

Deposit Amount	# of Deposits	# of Deposit Items	# of Electronic Deposits	Checks Processed Lockbox	Checks Paid /Sorted	NSF Checks Processed	EFT/ACH Transactions & OCR Items Processed	Wire Transfers Processed (outgoing)	Average Ledger Balance
$2,863,686.58	37	643	41	1	638	7	28	5	$281,386.45

Each night the account is brought to a zero balance by transfers to or from the General Account as needed to zero out. The General Account is required to maintain a collected target balance (Respondents are to specify the amount). After the daily sweeps are made for the account, if the balance is more than the collected target balance, the surplus is transferred to the Investment Sweep Account. If the collected target balance is less, then money is transferred from the Investment Sweep Account to the General Account to maintain the target balance. The University would like to know the minimum target balance needed in order to have free checking account services.

Disbursement Account – This account is used for check clearing only and is a Zero Balance Account (ZBA). The dollar amount that is presented for checks is taken from the Sweep Account.

Loan Account – Loan proceeds for students are delivered via ACH transactions to this account which is a ZBA. Any balance remaining at the end of the day is transferred to the Master Account.

Sweep Account – After leaving some balance in the Master Account, all funds are placed in this money market account at the close of each banking business day. The average ledger balance in this account is normally about $2,945,000.

Organization Deposit/Internet Account – This account is used to receive payments from students such as application fees, etc. by using an online payment system, i.e. NelNet. Student refunds are also remitted from this account. The average ledger balance of this account is about $525,400. Below are the average monthly transaction numbers for this account:

Checks Paid	Misc. Items Paid	Basic Positive Pay Items	Deposits	ACH Returns	Web-ACH Originated
579	16	580	62	4	34

Direct Loan Account – This account is used solely for receiving loan proceeds via the direct lending process. Wire transfers are processed from this account to the Master Account to cover vendor payments and payroll. The average ledger balance of this account is about $10,655,000. Activity in this account is limited.

It is important for Respondents to understand that deposits, ACH credits, and wire transfers shall be made available as soon as possible. The bank shall include its schedule of availability in its proposal.

1. Investment Services

Funds may be paid direct interest or invested in overnight instruments that are permissible under the University's investment policy (such as overnight repurchase agreements, etc.). The bank shall guarantee that the funds automatically swept from the accounts at the end of the business day shall be fully available at the beginning of the next business day.

All account funds may be co-mingled on an overnight basis to maximize earning potential.
- e. Please describe investments available on a daily basis. Investment vehicles should at least include money market funds and repurchase agreements (backed by U.S. Treasury instruments) and certificates of deposit up to bank's individual limit covered by FDIC.

- h. Identify if there is risk to the underlying principal held overnight in these accounts.

2. Banking Services

- a. Please provide a description of reconciliation services available, including electronic reconciliation capabilities.
- b. Your institution must provide hard copy account statements by the third working day of the month.

- e. Describe your bank's remote deposit capture process.
- f. Describe the daily deposit process. How are deposit changes handled, notified and documented?

- j. Please identify the fully staffed service locations near the University where deposits may be made. Also, note the deadline at each location for deposit delivery to ensure same-day credit.
- k. Describe your program that would enable the University to access accounts in the bank's computer system, obtain the on-line status of account balances and perform account transfers, transactions, and provide on-line printed and/or downloaded information for the reconciliation of cleared and outstanding checks.
- l. Describe any other relevant on-line services your institution offers.
- m. Describe your institution's purchasing credit card program for departmental credit cards.
- n. Describe your institution's travel credit card program for individual credit cards.
- o. Are any of the services that your institution would offer the University subcontracted out to a third-party, requiring a separate contractual agreement?
- p. Describe your process of notifying the University of bounced checks, and ACH and direct deposits initiated by the University that are kicked-back.
- q. Describe any other services that the bank believes would be of benefit to the University.

3. Optional Services

In addition to the minimum requirements outlined above, the University is interested in examining the availability and costs of other optional services:

G. Support and Involvement

Describe the bank's expectations and/or assumptions of the University's involvement or level of effort, including communication protocols necessary to keep banking services running smoothly.

VII. THE COST PROPOSAL

The University's preference is to not use the compensating balance method for paying any banking fees. Fees for all services shall be invoiced no less than once per quarter, preferably monthly. Fees will not be deducted from any of the accounts of the University held by the bank without any prior written approval of authorized personnel of the University.

All services provided by the bank shall be invoiced on the same, itemized invoice if possible. Fees for any type of service shall not be included in, credited against, or deducted from a transaction amount.

All fees for services need to be detailed, including fees for supplies, transactions, handling items, and exceptional matters. If the fee is not disclosed for a service, the bank shall be deemed as providing the service for free.

No banking fees of any type shall increase for a period of one (1) year from the date of initiating any Agreement for Service with the bank. If any fee increases without the express written consent of the University, the University shall have the option of terminating the banking relationship, upon which the bank shall immediately turn over to the University all funds on deposit, in any type of account or instrument, without any penalty of any kind, or any delay of any kind.

Full fee disclosure should be provided in the Fee Schedule (Exhibit II) that is part of the RFP. Quotes must be on or in the format of the forms provided. All information requested must be provided.

Please provide additional schedules, explanations, and information as needed regarding fees, etc. The University reserves the right to disregard incomplete quotes.

If any opportunity for further discounts exists, such as encoding and proofing our own deposits, please describe in further detail.

The bank cannot charge the University for any other services without prior approval. Any additional fees may not exceed the lowest fee charged to any of the bank's other customers.

The quotes may also be evaluated by any other impartial party deemed necessary to give due consideration to each proposal.

The University reserves the right, where it may serve its best interest, to request additional information or clarifications from those making proposals, or to allow corrections of errors or omissions. At the University's discretion, the Evaluation Team may conduct interviews with one or more respondents and the bank/banks may be requested to make oral presentations as part of the evaluation process.

The University reserves the right to only review the quotes without issuing a new contract.
